

Fourth Class Activities

Fourth class have enjoyed many activities already this year such as Pilates, sports conditioning and cricket lessons. The children love learning new skills while staying active.

As well as this, the children have been partaking in an 8-week movement trial with Annette Cashells. They have been exploring different ways to sit in class as well as experimenting with how they can move around the classroom more frequently during the day. This has involved sitting on yoga balls, walking around shoeless and spontaneous dance breaks!

The children were also lucky to visit Baldoyle library where they heard from author Amanda Bell. She performed a reading of her book 'The Lost Library Book' and spoke to the children about the process of writing it.

The children and their teacher are excited to see what the rest of the year will bring!
